

“RAISE THEM WELL”

BY: PASTOR DALE EVRIST

There's nothing like a father to make a family strong
To let in all that's right, and keep out all that's wrong
A man who loves His children, God's truth to always tell
Who hears the Father saying, "I'll help you raise them well."

It's something of a mystery why dads have so much sway
But everyone's impacted by what they do and say
So, fathers must declare the Word as clearly as a bell
And hear the Father saying, "I'll help you raise them well."

God's word commands that fathers bring their children up
With training and with discipline to fill their children's cup
For as a dad is faithful, his children's faith will swell
As every day, the Father says, "I'll help you raise them well."

Sometimes a father fears he's not up to the task
He feels that it is something, far more than God should ask
But then he hears a voice, a whisper, not a yell
The comfort of the Father saying, "I'll help you raise them well."

And standing right beside him, a wife, a loving mother
A partner who will stand with him and battle like no other
Her mix of war and worship emits a fragrant smell
As the Father says to both of them, "I'll help you raise them well."

Don't worry, Dad, you'll make it; His grace will see you through
By Him, you'll have the strength you need for all you have to do
You'll have the plans of heaven to defeat the schemes of hell
As you hear the Father saying, "I'll help you raise them well."

And, Dad, we rise to cheer you here on this special day
Receive His grace sufficient, as you seek to light their way
As you lead them to the Savior, His story they will tell
And always hear the Father saying, "I'll help you raise them well."

And, finally, to you, Dad, please hear God's people say
We're here to labor with you, to love, to serve, to pray
Your children are a treasure that we'll steward without fail
As the Father says to all of us, "I'll help you raise them well."

HAPPY FATHERS DAY!
